Larry, We want to thank you again. You made such a difference in Lucy's life. Lucy is such a different dog now. She goes up to people and lets them pet her and talk to her. My parents were over yesterday and she just put her head on their lap and let them pet her and give her love. She has been to the dog park several times and is getting better with other dogs. She is slowly letting dogs go up to her. At the parks she is doing well. At Koch park she even went between Amber and Myself when we were about 150 feet apart and did it on command. We still have things to learn and master. Thanks again, Lucy is a pleasure and love now. I know you will really see a different dog when you see her again. Gary, Lee and Amber.
